 - Current ideas is board members as astronauts and everyone else as mission control with Frances as JFK
 - We could have everyone buy a second t-shirt like last year with the tank tops
 - T-shirts could have something about Apollo 18 on them (the last Apollo mission was 17)
 - Chaos of the first option of mission control and astronauts could be fun
 - We don't necessarily have to separate things into board and non board as astronauts and mission control
 - We need to convey astronauts without looking stupid
