

3:42: Mags brought awesome snacks

- Mags is literally the best

3:43: BA is hosting a Certamen tournament for novices

- If you are a latin 1 and want to participate let the people in charge know by the 13th
 - Hackmaster Frances can't provide rides, Glorious Leader Hazel is providing rides, so let them know if you need one

3:44: Board meeting on the 28th

- We'll talk about that at a later meeting

3:44: Mags and Magis have made an executive decision to use our state t-shirt for nationals

- We got second at state, but the 1st place t-shirt sucked

3:45: Constitution stuff

- The entirety of article 8 doesn't apply to us, so we're going to take it out
 - Poor Hackmaster Frances had to renumber the rest of the constitution

3:50: Election stuff (for the next 20 minutes)

- Declarations of candidacy are due March 2nd
 - There will be a candidates meeting on that day
- All classes will get two voting delegates
 - These delegates are required to attend the candidates meeting so that they can learn how to be good delegates
 - Delegates are also required to attend the candidates open forum so that they actually know who they are voting for
- There will be speeches on a monday during lunch in the latin room
 - Candidates will give a short speech and then the room will be opened to questions
 - If you care about who is on the latin board next year you need to come to this meeting
- Once the open forum(different from speeches) has been concluded on wednesday voting will begin some time that week
 - Voting delegates will discuss with their classes the candidates and the positions that they are running for
 - The students will be given the options to vote for a candidate, abstain from voting, or vote no confidence.
 - Abstaining means that you don't know/care enough to vote for a candidate, no confidence means that you don't think that any of the running candidates are good enough to be a good member of the board

4:10: We done